Deadline: April 11, 2014

The CPA firm of McAlpin, Cavalcanti & Lewis and Glynda Cavalcanti, through the John Carroll Educational Foundation, have created the Dr. Norman M. Trabulsy Memorial Scholarship. This scholarship is worth $1,000 toward tuition for the 2014-15 school year and is open to incoming 9th-12th graders at John Carroll High School.

The application process is anonymous. To apply, candidates must submit report cards for the first three quarters of this school year with names and any identifying information deleted. Additionally, students must write a one-page essay with the theme, "How I best exemplify Christian values in my community."

This scholarship is open to ANY student entering grades 9-12 and should be submitted in a sealed envelope in person to Mrs. Pride in the front office.

At that time, Mrs. Pride will give the applicant an identifying number. The deadline is Friday, April 11, 2014, at 3 p.m. No name or identifying information should appear on the report card, essay, or sealed envelope as the scholarship is to be chosen anonymously by a small committee. The application will be disqualified if any identifying information is found anywhere on the report cards or essay.

Dr. Norman M. Trabulsy was a dentist in Fort Pierce and Vero Beach for almost 50 years. Although he was a renowned dentist, he was also known in the community as a compassionate leader and was an example of Christian values. He served in many capacities at St. Anastasia Catholic Church, particularly as a Eucharistic Minister and on various councils over the years. Additionally, he served on the St. Anastasia School Endowment Board of Directors and the School Advisory Councils of John Carroll and St. Anastasia. Despite all his achievements, Dr. Trabulsy is most remembered for his love of family, kindness to others, and dedication to the St. Anastasia Catholic community. This scholarship has been created by friends of the family through the John Carroll Educational Foundation as a living legacy of this great man.
